

Loota

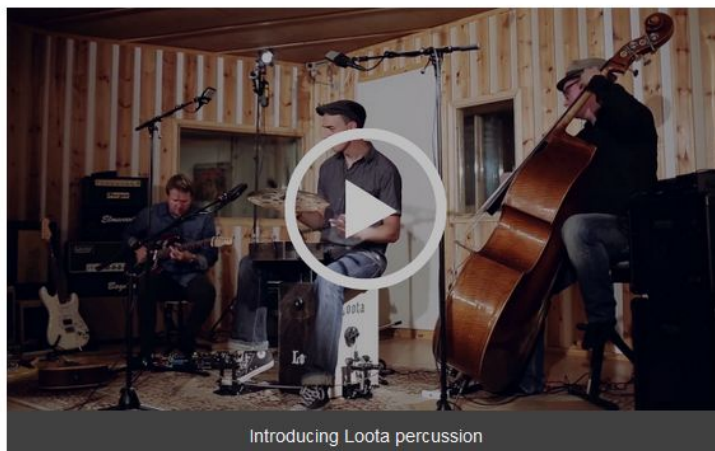

PERCUSSION
DESIGN BY MIKA LILJA

We are looking for a business partner in Japan!

Loota percussion

Loota percussion is a high quality wooden drum set, designed in Finland and handmade of birch. Loota percussion includes a bass drum, a snare drum, a cymbal and a hi-hat. It has magnificent sound and it is a perfect choice for acoustic gigs.

Introducing Loota percussion

Become our partner

We have received some queries from Japan where people were interested to buy our product, but they would like to buy it directly from a Japanese music store.

Would you like to represent Loota percussion in Japan?

Contact info

We would be happy to answer all of your questions and to discuss more about the business opportunities.

History

The idea of creating Loota was born in 2011, when I did a gig playing a Cajon drum. I fell in love with the stunning soft sound of a Cajon, but the playing position was unpleasant for a tall guy! For the next gig I developed a drum with softer sound which could be played quietly and in a better position ergonomically.

Product development

In the beginning Loota was only two boxes and a pedal, but I developed it further. Each version of the Loota set has been better and more sustainable than the previous one. The product development is still continuing and Loota is improving all the time.
